

A vibrant tropical floral collage featuring various plants and flowers. At the top and bottom are large, red bromeliads with pointed, layered leaves. To the left, a Bird of Paradise flower with bright orange and blue petals is prominent. Scattered throughout are several yellow plumeria flowers with five petals. On the right, a large red hibiscus flower is visible. There are also purple flowers and green foliage, including long, serrated leaves. The entire composition is set against a white background.
